WHO WE ARE

Classic Architectural Group is trusted by building professionals across Australia, because we have consistently listened to our customers, regulators and partners for over 30 years to provide exceptional client service while developing products that are versatile in terms of design, colours and application.

We have expanded our large range of highly durable entrance mats, covers and trims, stair nosing and tactile indicators in a variety of styles and colours that can complement any design or layout.

We specialise in end-to-end fulfilment - from design to installation - to provide a proven service for building professionals that's smart and effective.

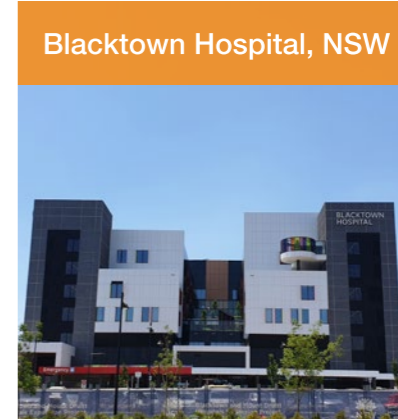

At Classic, we inspire and empower building professionals to be their best. Our team goes above and beyond in the service they provide, enabling our customers to do what they do best, knowing they have what they need to deliver exceptional results for their own customers.
